Dear friends

One of the places I have enjoyed exploring the most since moving to the Naseby Group is Haddon Fields just outside of Clipston village. A place to explore, to find fossils, to go pond dipping and to marvel at the wonder of God's creation, not forgetting to see in the odd bird of prey.

The undulating contours of the field, the ridge and furrow, the sheep and the stream running through all combined to create a very peaceful place.

Streams in the Bible are often used as pictures to help us to understand God and how he moves and works.

Whether it be the shepherd who leads his sheep to the quiet stream in the Psalms, or God saying that he will make streams flow through the desert bringing new life in Isaiah, or as a symbol of God's desire for justice and righteousness in Amos.

On the 29th of June this month, we are having a Benefice Vision Sunday for our seven parishes to come and explore together what the future may look like. It will be a chance to hope together, and one of the pictures we will be drawing on is that of the stream.

So if this intrigues you, please do put this in your diary and prioritise joining us in this important moment for us as a group of churches.

We'll be thinking about our service patterns and how they best meet the changing needs of our communities, as well as thinking how do we reach our villages, neighbours and friends with the good news of the love of God.

We will continue our time together after in Welford Village Hall for a bring and share meal.

I look forward to seeing many of you there in this important time for us as a group of churches.

Blessings

Tom

Shall I compare thee to a summer's day?
Thou art more lovely and more temperate.
Rough winds do shake the darling buds of May,
And summer's lease hath all too short a date.
Sometime too hot the eye of heaven shines,
And often is his gold complexion dimmed;
And every fair from fair sometime declines,
By chance, or nature's changing course untrimmed.
But thy eternal summer shall not fade
Nor lose possession of that fair thou ow'st;
Nor shall death brag thou wand'rest in his shade,
When in eternal lines to time thou grow'st,
So long as men can breathe or eyes can see,
So long lives this, and this gives life to thee.

William Shakespeare

CHAPEL COMMENT

Every hour, on the hour, a new guard arrives at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington in the United States.

The guard who is being relieved speaks three words to his replacement; “Orders remain unchanged”.

This proud tradition has been maintained each and every year since 1937.

That absolute certainty in respect for those who died for their country is reassuring. But there are other words for those who live in this world and they have remained for more than 2000 years.

The entire law is summed up in a single command; ‘Love your neighbour as yourself’.

Galatians 5:14.
